MARINES SEIZE AIRFIELD ON IWO JIMA

YANKS SMASH STIFFENING JAP DEFENSES

Veteran Doughboys Mow Path Across Island Extending From East to West Coast
HALT FIERCE ATTACKS

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Feb. 20—(AP)—American marines seized the southern airfield on southern Iwo Jima today after smashing through Japanese defenses as "fanatically defended as any in the Pacific," Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

Veteran marines mowed a path clear across the island extending in an irregular wedge shape from two and a half miles long on the east coast to 1,000 yards on the west.

Newly captured territory reaches from the northern slopes of Suribachi, Japanese volcano fortress on the southern tip of the island now cut off from the northern edge of the island.

Last night a battalion of Japanese attacked in full strength down the runway to the southern edge of the air strip, but the 27th Marine Regiment beat it back fiercely and drove off the Japanese remnants.

Sporadic artillery and mortar fire fell on American beaches on both sides of the island through the night but U. S. forces continued to unload more supplies, reinforcements and artillery.

American fighters broke up several Japanese air attempts to counterattack, while Pacific fleet units maintained a continuous bombardment of the highly prized airfield 750 miles south of Tokyo.

Territory captured by the veteran Fifth Marine Corps in two days of fighting represents about one quarter of the nine mile square island.

The commander was the second somber-toned release issued by advanced Pacific fleet headquarters tonight on the toughest battle in the American marines history.

In his first report today Nimitz said American losses in smashing across the southern end of the island were relatively light but were heavier on the northern flank, of the original beachhead where the Yanks battered up unprotected slopes to envelop the airfield.

"The fight is the toughest we've run across in 168 years," Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith, commander of marine corps forces in the Pacific, told Associated Press Correspondent Morris Landsberg aboard sea forces standing off the island.

Japanese, still holding the wide, northern end of the island, poured artillery mortar and rifle fire down on the Yanks and put up their stiffest fight for the southern airfield.

Motomura airfield number two lies just north of the American-held territory, won in the fiercest fighting of all on the island.

Nimitz made no mention of tanks which eye-witnesses said had been thrown into the battle. Tokyo radio reported a tank battle underway on the plateau in the center of the island occupied by the prized southern airfield.

Advance elements of the marines expanded their hold on the airfield, Nimitz said, against fierce and increasing opposition.

Heavy fighting was underway on the northern end of the field. Earlier Nimitz had said unequivocally that the leathernecks "are" (Turn to Page Seven)

Forts Blast Rail Center Of Nuernberg

By HENRY B. JAMESON
London, Feb. 20—(AP)—The vast railroad yards and locomotive repair shops at Nuernberg, 90 miles north of Munich, were blasted by 900 Flying Fortresses today in the eighth straight day of the aerial offensive against the Reich.

The bombers were escorted on the long haul across the dangerous Nazi fighter belt by about 700 Mustangs and Thunderbolts, which flew in relays from British and French bases.

Curfew Includes All Private Organizations

Washington, Feb. 20—(AP)—The Office of War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes says the new midnight curfew order applies to all private clubs and organizations with bars.

An aide, asked if the order affected fraternal clubs with bars, operated privately, replied affirmatively, referring to the paragraph in Byrnes' order which states:

"Places of entertainment are intended to include all night clubs, sport arenas, theatres, dance halls, road houses, saloons, bars and other similar enterprises, whether public or private, excluding restaurants engaged exclusively in serving food."

Walled City Of Intramuros Is Pounded

By FRED HAMPSON
Manila, Feb. 20—(AP)—American heavy howitzers tore holes in the thick outer walls of Manila's Intramuros (walled city) today to clear the way for tanks and infantrymen determined to wipe out the last major Japanese stronghold in the capital and free 7,000 civilian hostages.

It was possible some of the civilians already had reached freedom by risking heavy enemy fire to slip into the waterfront area and escape in small boats.

While 11th Airborne and First Cavalry Yanks entered extensive Fort William McKinley, at the southern outskirts of the capital, 37th Division troops wheeled big howitzers over pontoon bridges spanning the Pasig and began shelling medieval Intramuros walls 40 feet thick at the base.

Three days ago Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold asked the Japanese commander in the Intramuros to liberate the civilians within the walls in exchange for honorable surrender. No formal answer was forthcoming, so the Americans proceeded to knock the walls down.

Russian Advances Liberate Many U. S. Prisoners of War

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Feb. 20—(AP)—The rapid advance of Russian armies has made possible the liberation of many United States officers and men from Nazi prison camps despite German attempts to evacuate prisoners from threatened areas.

Freeing of the Americans was disclosed by Maj. Gen. J. Russell Deane, chief of the U. S. Military Mission in Moscow, who said he had ordered an army detachment to proceed to Lublin—where some of the liberated prisoners have assembled—to begin measures for their repatriation. Other groups of prisoners are known to be sheltered in Praga and farther west.

State Hospital Is Included In Broad Expansion Program

Harrisburg, Feb. 20—(AP)—Broad expansion of Pennsylvania's mental, penal and medical institutions at a cost of $186,809,751 was recommended today in a 10-year program submitted to the legislature.

Welfare Secretary S. M. O'Hara said the plan which she worked out in conjunction with special committees set up by Governor Martin would give the commonwealth "the best welfare system in the United States."

Allocation of $77,534,196 for actual construction during 1945-47—depending on availability of labor and material—is asked to meet existing needs of overcrowded institutions.

This would allow $47,156,400 for mental hospitals, $10,461,820 to institutions for defective and mentally deficient, $1,624,800 for epileptic institutions, $15,000,000 for penal and correctional places and $2,876,400 for medical and surgical hospitals.

An appropriation of $385,547 would be set up for engineering studies on future developments at a proposed cost of $27,326,196 biennially starting in 1947. Specific projects were not listed.

Reporting a 1944 inmate population of nearly 35,000 at mental institutions against a rated capacity of 27,407, Miss O'Hara declared "overcrowding defeats any program for curative treatment or rehabilitation within the hospital." She anticipated an added patient load of 700 persons annually after 1947.

Baseball's Future Will Be Discussed

Washington, Feb. 20—(AP)—National League President Ford Frick acknowledged today he has a late afternoon appointment. But that is the only hint Frick would give as to his plans for conferring with government officials on baseball problems.

Frick was joined here this morning by Will Harridge, American League head. They went into a two-man huddle at Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators, to map out procedure.

An appointment with the Office of Defense Transportation Director, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, scheduled for noon, was postponed.

Brief Comment on Conference By Churchill

London, Feb. 20—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared in his first public reference today to the results of the Big Three conference that "affairs abroad are rather smoother."

Churchill returned to London yesterday after stopovers at Athens and Cairo. He was greeted with a rousing cheer when he walked into the house of commons.

He and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden lost little time in stepping into the rigorous give and take of parliamentary debate. Eden announced that Tuesday and Wednesday of next week would be allocated to debate on the Crimea conference.

The prime minister's brief remark on conditions abroad came in a response to a request that time be allotted for consideration of social service legislation.

Churchill was expected to deliver a full report on the conference to the house—probably later in the week. Two days have been reserved for his review and expected debate.

The prime minister reached London last evening after stopping off en route at Athens and Cairo. He immediately conferred with the war cabinet.

KILLER IN FALL OF ROCK

Altoona, Feb. 20—(AP)—A fall of rock at the Argyle Coal Co. mine at Tumbull, Blair county, took the life of George Mitchell Chiridon, 58, yesterday, while two of his five children in the armed services were home on furlough.

He was inspecting a mine car rail when the fall crushed his skull.

Committee Adopt Nurse Draft Bill

Washington, Feb. 20—(AP)—A nurses draft bill applicable to all unmarried graduate nurses between 20 and 44, both ages inclusive, was approved today by the house military committee.

The legislation is intended to meet President Roosevelt's request for a law to provide 20,000 nurses immediately for the army and the navy.

It provides for deferment of veterans administration nurses and gives the War Manpower Commission authority to order the deferment of any woman engaged in essential civilian nursing service.

The measure also requires the induction of graduate cadet nurses before non-cadets may be drafted. Cadet graduates may be deferred only on grounds of dependency, family relationship or physical disability.

GOCH RUNS ARE CLEARED BY CANADIANS

Five Vicious Counterattacks Repelled by First Army Check Gains on Northern Wing

SEVENTH WIDENS FRONT

By the Associated Press
Paris, Feb. 20—The Canadian First Army virtually cleared the ruins of Goch, fortified Siegfried line road center, today and repelled at least five vicious counterattacks which checked gains on the northern wing of the Western front.

At the opposite flank, the American Seventh army widened its resurgent front inside the industrial Saarland and captured five towns in a move to within three and a half miles and sight of the blackened steel city of Saarbruecken. The Seventh, at least 11 divisions and 155,000 men strong, was applying increasing pressure in its limited offensive at the fringe of the packed arsenal region.

In between, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. Third Army moved into Germany at a new point, capturing Wincheningen, a mile across the border east of Luxembourg city and five miles from the fortified road hub of Saarburg. The 94th Division seized four towns along a four-mile front between Saarbruecken and Trier, Germany's oldest city and birthplace of Karl Marx.

The Roer river, like the Rhine and Moselle, was receding. When its flood waters return to banks in the 35 miles from the opened dam gates to Roermond, the American First and Ninth armies and the British Second will be able to strike toward Cologne, the Rhine-land and the Ruhr. Indeed the Germans said the Ninth had attempted a crossing at Linlich, where the Roer still was wide and angry.

When the massed might of the three Allied armies on the Roer is applied the Germans before Cologne, Duesseldorf and Duisburg will be squeezed in a vise west of the Rhine, with the Canadian army in its northern jaw.

A thousand Nazis surrendered yesterday, boasting the toll for the northern campaign above 9,000. Scottish forces which drove into Goch from opposite directions joined in the heart of the city.

Further east, Canadian troops cut across the Goch-Calcar road about two miles west of Calcar and beat off repeated counterattacks in (Turn to Page Seven)

Army Honors Memory of Local Hero

In a letter just received from Lt. Col. Joseph B. Coolidge, commanding officer of the 2nd Battalion, 507th Infantry on Leyte, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Sullivan, 906 Pennsylvania avenue, west, have learned that an airfield established on the island has been named the Joseph J. Sullivan Field in memory of their son, "Jiggs."

The officer's letter, the first news they have had since the original War Department communication was received, is as follows:

"Nothing that I can write will relieve your sorrow or lighten your loss of your son, Joseph. He was killed near San Jose, Leyte, when his company was fighting strong enemy forces. He led an assault on a position and his gallant action resulted in overrunning the enemy and assuring the success of the 'battalion'."

"He died shortly after he was hit and suffered very little. Your son will long be remembered and admired by us all. His heroic action will remain an inspiration to Company F."

"The airfield where we now are has been named the Joseph J. Sullivan Field in his memory. I am, respectfully, yours, 'Joseph B. Coolidge.'"

Federal Agencies Ready To Crack Down on Violators of Curfew Requested by Byrnes

A midnight curfew decreed by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes will go into effect Monday on all bars, night clubs, road houses—all night life, public or private, from New York's carriage trade gay spots to the myriad juke box places in the nation's small towns.

Byrnes' "request," having the effect of an order and backed by the disciplinary powers of four war agencies, was directed last night to "all places of entertainment."

Reaction among entertainment leaders ranged from enthusiastic assurances of support to declarations such as "we're ruined" and predictions of a return of the speak-easy.

The text of the Washington announcement said:

"Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion James F. Byrnes announced today that he is requesting all places of entertainment to close by 12 o'clock midnight each day, effective Feb. 26. 'By closing at 12 midnight' it is meant that patrons shall leave in time to permit full closing by that time."

"Places of entertainment are intended to include all night clubs, sport arenas, theatres, dance halls, road houses, saloons, bars, and other similar enterprises, whether public or private, excluding restaurants engaged exclusively in serving food. The purpose of this request is primarily to save coal consumed in heating and in providing electricity. But it will also be helpful in the fields of transportation, manpower, and in other ways."

Byrnes said he would ask the War Manpower Commission to "dictate" to any places violating this request. He also said the war production board, the Office of Defense Transportation and the Office of Price Administration would be asked for support.

Unofficially it was thought the ODT could act against offenders by preventing delivery of supplies and by exercising taxicab and bus controls. The WPB could cut off (Turn to Page Seven)

Way Is Open For Martin's Key Objective

Harrisburg, Feb. 20—(AP)—Bipartisan agreement on the administration anti-pollution program opened the way today for quick legislative action carrying out Governor Martin's No. 1 objective.

Terminating a conference with rival party and assembly leaders "the most constructive meeting we have so far held," the executive announced in a statement:

"We are in agreement relative to anti-stream pollution and conservation. We agree that time maturation of sewage disposal is a state and municipal problem; that industrial disposal is an industrial and state problem; that improvement on ports is a municipal, state and federal problem."

Key measure in the administration program is the Brunner house bill to outlaw dumping of mine salt into streams. Martin also has asked power for municipalities to set up authorities to construct disposal plants on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Democratic House Leader Hiram G. Andrews said "a substantial agreement was reached" at the Martin conference on port development. He did not disclose details.

Committee approval, meantime, sent to the senate floor the administration tax program and bi-partisan legislation advancing the 1945 primary election from Sept. 11 to June 19. The house already has okayed the measures.

St. Marys Man Is Released on Luzon

Harrisburg, Feb. 20—(AP)—Public Utility Commission employees have received a letter from a former colleague, Army Capt. John L. Lucas, formerly of St. Marys, a prisoner released in a raid on a Japanese prison on Luzon.

Written on Red Cross stationery, the letter, dated Feb. 2, said: "Hello, everybody. In American hands again, still in the Philippines. Hope to see you all soon. Kind regards to all."

Capt. Lucas was a senior electrical engineer with PUC more than three years before he went to Manila to take charge of an electric generating plant there in 1940. He was commissioned there after Pearl Harbor.

Disappointment Expressed Over DeGaulle's Rejection of Invitation For Meeting

TELLS DRAMATIC STORY

Washington, Feb. 20—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill have conferred anew on strategy for crushing Japan in the Pacific where Russia officially continues her role as a "neutral power."

The latest Roosevelt-Churchill meeting took place in Alexandria, Egypt, after conclusion February 11 of the historic Big-Three conference at Yalta, Crimea, on the Black Sea.

But another meeting planned by Mr. Roosevelt during his trip to see Churchill and Marshal Stalin did not come off. General Charles de Gaulle, president of the provisional government of France, reported that official business would not permit him to meet the president at Algiers, French North Africa.

In his first official comment on de Gaulle's rejection of his invitation, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Questions of mutual interest and importance to France and the United States are pending. I wanted very much to see the general before leaving for home."

The whole dramatic story of the president's journey through the middle east after the eight-day Yalta conference was told today in a lengthy dispatch released by the White House. (Turn to Page Seven)

Lend-Lease Aid Totals 35 Billions

Washington, Feb. 20—(AP)—Congress was told officially today that lend lease aid has reached $35,382,000,000 but that its importance in civilian shortages here at home has been "greatly over-stated in numerous false rumors."

Leo T. Crowley, foreign economic administrator, sent up the 18th report on lend lease operations at the direction of President Roosevelt.

He denied that lend lease shipments caused the cigarette and beef shortages. "An effective fighting partnership and a system of combined war supply," Lend lease will continue to be used for one purpose only, "to speed the day of final victory."

Tonight's the Night When Old Town Really Becomes Quiet

With the brown out still keeping the village rather subdued as far as lights are concerned tonight will see the amusement places, theatres, bowling alleys, bars and night clubs closed. Last evening with latent heat which had been generated during the day and before 7 o'clock the theatres, some bowling alleys and other places operated. But the throttles on the gas were turned down at 7 last evening and the places will be closed. That is all of them except the lucky boys who are using coal for heat. "Sunny thing the ban is to conserve coal and gas but the coal heated nighties can keep open.

And the nighties are also worried now over the curfew order that followed on the heels of the gas ban. Under this order night life will cease at midnight and the folks will send their weary way homeward to count red points due to the scarcity of sheep. And the order is further expanded by the powers that be in that the folks must leave the jerns so that the funnies can be locked up tight when the eerie hour tolls. Pulled shades won't do and if the places are not quiet as a tomb the ghosts of the WPB will walk abroad at midnight and get you if you don't watch out.

The order on the curfew promises more headaches than do the brownout or gas ban. The gas ban will expire tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock unless the mercury dives again and creates a pull on gas supplies. The brown out will go on and on as will the curfew on the funsters and frolickers.

And the liquor store will close Thursday, too. So better get a little supply laid in as there will be no place like home after midnight pretty quick.

Payments To Dairy Men Are Announced

The War Food Administration announced the dairy production payment rates for the last three quarters of the year through the State AAA Committee for Pennsylvania today.

According to Clyde A. Zehner, AAA Chairman, the payments for milk produced in April, May and June of this year will be supported by production payments of 35 cents per hundred pounds. The January-February-March payment is 30 cents per hundred pounds for milk produced under stable feeding of high priced forage and grain.

Payments for milk produced in July, August and September will be 45 cents per hundred pounds during the period when pastures usually show the effects of hot, dry weather and 70 cents for the months of October, November and December if Congress approves funds beyond the end of the present fiscal year ending June 30, 1945.

Farmers who produce milk for butter will receive payments of 10 cents per pound for butterfat produced in April, May and June and 16 cents per pound for the balance of the year. Payments will be made as usual through county AAA offices.

Ration Bank Rulings Are Tightened Up

The District OPA today announced a sterner attitude toward overdrafts of ration point banks. Effective February 7, institutional and industrial users of rationed food will be notified and given an opportunity to repay a first over-draft. Accounts will be automatically closed if overdrawn a second time.

Institutional users include such establishments as restaurants, hotels, and in-plant feeding operations. Industrial users include such concerns as bakeries and ice cream plants.

The tightening up of the banking operation is necessary Mr. Alvin J. Williams, District Director explained, because heretofore there has been no enforcement machinery to prevent a growing number of over-drafts.

Ration banking operates the same as ordinary checking accounts, with users of rationed food depositing ration currency which they draw against.

The new program requires that first overdrafts be repaid within 15 days of the start of the impending ration allotment period. When repayment is not forthcoming, accounts will be closed.

In cases where the user repays the later overdrafts a second time, the account will be suspended at once.

Where accounts are suspended, "cash" payment in ration currency will be required.

BIG FLASH, LITTLE DAMAGE

What might have been a big fire took place this morning at the Pennzoil gasoline station at Market street and Pennsylvania avenue this morning. Gasoline or alcohol had been left in a water can and some person desiring to fill his radiator took the can and ran it full of water. A nearby water heater caused the gasoline fumes to flash. The man threw the can and contents out of doors. Some person seeing the flash pulled Box 23 and the firemen responded. There was no loss.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, Feb. 19—Youngsville firemen were called out to the home of Marion Benus on Railroad street only a short distance from the borough building where the fire fighting equipment is housed. The fire was of the chimney variety so common in winter. It was soon out but not before an estimated damage to the house of one and fifty dollars. Apparently this was a case of a defective chimney.

More News of WHS Alumni Killed on the Western Front

Additional news has been received here concerning S/Sgt. Raymond B. Wolfe, of Wewoka, Okla., formerly of the Warren, whose death on the Belgian front was reported in these columns a few days ago. The following concerning him is taken from a Wewoka daily:

ceived by his parents from the War Department on Monday, February 5.

At the time he was killed, Sergeant Wolfe was a paratrooper in the 82nd Airborne division and had been in constant action since D-Day in Normandy. He was wounded in Holland and was hospitalized in England about a month prior to the time he was fatally wounded. At his own request he was discharged from the hospital so that he might rejoin his company in France. He was one of the participants in the hard-fought struggle for the Nijmegen bridge in western Holland where Allied losses were extremely heavy.

His first actual combat was when he made his initial jump on D-Day on the Normandy beachhead, after which he fought his way back to his own lines.

State Officer Checks Dogs In This Area

O. S. Sheridan, state dog law investigator, was a caller in the Times-Mirror office this morning enroute to Sugar Grove where he is investigating complaints about widespread damage being done by canines running at large in that vicinity.

Mr. Sheridan issued a warning that all dog owners must procure their 1945 licenses without delay. The 1944 licenses expired January 15th. He states that anyone harboring an unlicensed dog is liable to a fine of from five to 100 dollars or thirty days in jail, or both.

In the meantime citizens of the borough and county are advised to report all damage by dogs to livestock or poultry to Owen S. Sheridan, North East, Pa. Phone 14-R. Numerous complaints have been received at this office from citizens in both the borough and county and especially the Sugar Grove area, about depredations caused by packs of dogs that are running at large. With the approach of spring there is much apprehension about the damage that will be caused to lawns and shrubbery by roaming mongrels.

WHAT PEACE FOR JAPAN?

An Australian clergyman in this country has urged a "just peace" which would not crush Japan's economic development or reduce her to a third-class power. He argues that, while those who have suffered at the Japs' hands may favor harsh terms, our children in another 25 years will be unwilling to continue such an attitude. He fears a sullen, vengeful Japan and a repetition of "this whole bloody business."

Yet we always bequeath to our children prisons that contain criminal types who are a menace to public safety. Our children may have forgotten their crimes. But they will know that they are sullen and resentful types who would resume a criminal life if released. So they do not hesitate to confine them for the duration of their sentences.

Confining a criminal nation is not so simple as putting a murderer in jail. But the principal is the same. So for safety, not for vengeance, we should preserve for our children the full record of the Japs' and Germans' brutal crimes against world society. And we should remind them, by all possible means, of the dangers which abandonment of watchfulness and control would invite.

SAVING FATS

Recent pleas for the salvage of waste fats have mentioned their use in soap, rather than ammunition. And many a modern woman, handing to her butcher the can for which she receives red points, has wondered why. Now the War Foods Administration has explained.

There is plenty of soap for normal use, they say, even for the washing country in history. But soap making requires fat, as our grandmothers well know. And stocks of soap-fats, which in recent years meant coconut oil and similar vegetable products, are not so great as before the war. Recently the WFB was forced to reduce manufacture of packaged and bar soap—ordinary toilet and laundry soaps—in units of less than 25 pounds for civilian use, from last year's 90 per cent of 1941 averages to 85 per cent.

With so much of our population no longer classed as civilians there will be plenty for everyone. The things the housewife must remember are, first to buy only what she really can use; second to turn in waste fats. Then enough can still be manufactured to keep everyone clean and healthy.

Field Marshal Montgomery's spirited order-of-the-day to his troops, who are doing such a grand job in turning the German northern flank in the Goch sector of the flooded Rhineland, is a clear call to an offensive—the "final round"—which will continue without stop until the "knockout blow".

A state dog law investigator arrived in the county today to investigate complaints received, especially from the Sugar Grove area. He emphasizes the fact that all dogs must be licensed and under the law owners are required to restrict them to their own property.

Instead of the Russians eventually being handed the key to Berlin, wouldn't a shovel be more appropriate?

OVERCOMING THE WORLD

It was near the close of His earthly ministry that Jesus said to His disciples, "Be of good cheer! I have overcome the world." This is an important statement, for if Christ, the Son of God, had not been able to overcome the world, there would be little hope for us. The Scripture enjoins us to "love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." That we might know what is meant by the world, it is defined thus: "For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

In studying the life of Christ, it is plain to be seen that He was attacked on these three points, but that he was victor also is very evident. Yes, the captain of our salvation has conquered all and has made it possible that we might be saved through Him.

The Master said to Nicodemus, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." So by faith in Him we may also overcome the world and attain a place in Him where the world has lost its grip and attraction. "For whosoever is born of God overcometh the world; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Who is he that overcometh the world but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?"

Let us increase our faith in Him.

Cadet Nurse Scholarships Are Available

Although many young women in Pennsylvania have been accepted in new classes opening soon in schools of nursing under the Cadet Nurse Corps program, a few scholarships still remain to be awarded in February and March classes. It was announced today by the U. S. Public Health Service, which administers the program.

Officials stressed that in order to qualify, applicants must be graduated from high school with satisfactory grades and subjects; meet the specific requirements of the school to which they apply; and be in good health.

Scholarships provide room, board, tuition, fees, books and uniforms. In addition, each student receives a small monthly spending allowance.

Members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps are credited with preventing the collapse of civilian nursing by serving as they learn. They not only relieve the nursing load in civilian hospitals, but also help release registered nurses for military service. When the 24 to 36 month training is completed and the student has passed her State Board examination and becomes a Registered Nurse, she is eligible to serve with the military or to take an essential position in a civilian hospital.

Schools of Nursing in Pennsylvania which still have scholarships available are: Canonsburg, Canonsburg Hospital, 10 vacancies for class opening March 15; Coatesville, Coatesville Hospital, 4 vacancies for Feb. 26 class; Homestead, Homestead Hospital, 12 vacancies for March 15; McKeesport, McKeesport Hospital, 5 vacancies in March class; New Castle, New Castle Hospital, 20 vacancies for Feb. 28 class; Meadville, Meadville City Hospital, 16 vacancies for May 1; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Hospital, 10 vacancies for Feb. 26 class; Pittsburgh, St. Francis Hospital, 10 vacancies for March 5 class; South Side Hospital, 5 vacancies for March 1 class; Suburban General Hospital, 4 vacancies for March 12 class; Wilkensburg, Columbia General Hospital, 12 vacancies for March 1 class.

Applications should be made immediately to the Recruitment Officer, Pennsylvania Nursing Council for War Service, 400 North Third Street, Harrisburg, Penna. This office will supply full information about these, as well as June and September classes. Application may also be made to the Director, School of Nursing, of the individual hospital.

YESTERDAY O'Shane comes upon Wacker's men running off a large herd of Double O and Turkey cattle. Falling in with the herd, he learns where the cattle are being taken, sets fire to the sage brush and stampedes the herd, then rides off toward the Turkey spread for help.

Chapter 14
A faint glow on the eastern horizon heralded the coming dawn when he loped up to the Turkey ranch house. Sliding wearily out of leather, he mounted the steps and hammered at the door.

Viola, a colorful dressing gown wrapped around her slim figure, finally threw it open. Blinking the sleep out of her eyes, she gazed at the dust smothered, haggard-eyed O'Shane in amazement.

"Well, if it's not our bush-whacker!" she gasped.

The redhead's fatigue lined features cracked in the parody of a grin. "As pretty as a painted wagon! Where's the Colonel, ma'am?" he exclaimed.

"In town, and I'm no wagon. You look half-dead. Are they chasing you again?"

To the wide-eyed Viola he rapidly outlined the events of the night.

"Step inside and sit down. I'll fetch Olson, our foreman."

In a few minutes she returned with a lean rider, with broad placid face and shrewd eyes.

O'Shane repeated his story. "I'll gamble there's a slug of Turkey crows in that gather," he concluded. "Them cow hawks combed the Valley. They're hazing five or six hundred head. Roust out your crew and we got a chance to stop 'em. When I left, the critters was high-tailing for hell."

Olson eyed the redhead doubtfully. Dirty, unshaven, dust-covered, his appearance did not inspire confidence.

"How come you're so danged interested?" he asked. "I figured you was on the lam?"

"That murder charge is a frame-

up," replied O'Shane shortly. "Wacker's back of them hoodlums. I burned down his lousy joint and I'll bust him before I'm through."

"Oh, don't waste time arguing, Oly!" burst in Viola.

"You turn the boys out right away. This is our chance to strike back."

SUNRISE saw ten riders, with Winchester in their saddle boots, loping down Piute Valley towards the desert.

O'Shane sighted the low-lying dust cloud slowly drifting upwards on the horizon, as they reined along.

"There's your cows!" he remarked laconically.

The foreman grunted, ducked the outspread thorny branch of a buckthorn and urged his pony to greater speed.

Spurring and yelling, riders appeared and disappeared, as they darted in and out of the dust haze on the flanks of the herd, frantically urging the cows to greater speed.

From the drag, two horsemen wheeled and backtracked towards the oncoming Turkey riders. The distance between the two parties narrowed every second. When less than a half mile distant, the pair went to earth. Above the faint clacking of horns and bellowing of the cows, came the sharp crack of a Winchester. The hidden marksmen commenced to throw a steady stream of bullets at the madly galloping cavalcade.

LEAD was flying thick and fast. One horse crashed, flinging its rider into a patch of cholla. His yell of pain and indignation, as the venomous little fishhook thorns penetrated his person, brought a chuckle to O'Shane's lips, as he pounded on.

Approaching the herd, the two parties came together again. Yelling with excitement, six guns ready for action they swept alongside the lumbering animals.

Stringing out, the Turkey crew strove to turn the herd, now stamped, tails humped, at an ever-quicken gallop. With Olson pressing close behind, O'Shane, firing into the air and yelling, pushed against the wild-eyed leaders. Slowly his efforts and those of the crew racing behind bore fruit. As he felt the leaders ease away amid a pandemonium of clashing horns, flying dust and thundering hooves, the red-head's sweat-streaked features relaxed into a satisfied smile. His ace in the hole had scooped the pot!

The party rode back to the scene of the attack. Dust clouds, ballooning against the blue sky, marked the trail of the retreating Double O gang.

On the trampled track which cut a wide swathe across the desert and marked the path of the herd, they found the bodies of three strange riders. Beside one, a horse still stood.

Olson eyed the brand, "Double O!" he commented in perplexity. "Why in hell should they rustle their own cows?"

"Mebbe they're double-crossing the spread," suggested a rider. "Fleeson's crew would double-cross their own owners," said O'Shane.

IT WAS sundown when the herd again entered Piute Valley. As they rode through the gathering darkness, O'Shane wheeled away from the foreman's side.

"Hey, where you heading for?" demanded Olson.

"I reckon you forget, I'm on the dodge," he reminded the foreman tersely. "After this," he nodded towards the plodding column of weary cows, "Wacker will raise hell to slip a hobble on me."

"The whole setup's got me baffled," acknowledged Olson, with a puzzled frown. "Anyways," he held out his sinewy hand. "Shake! You got gravel in your gizzard, plenty. Good luck, O'Shane!"

The redhead reined over and gripped the proffered hand. "Adios!" he grinned. "You ginks ain't heard the last of me yet."

Rites In Capital Unite in Marriage Local High Alumni

Of interest here is the news of the marriage of Miss Nancy Jane Christie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Christie, formerly of Warren, now of Washington, D. C., to Cpl. Ralph D. Farr, son of Mrs. Anna Farr, of Warren, on February 7 in the home of the bride's parents. About 25 friends and relatives were present. Rev. Reno S. Harp, Jr., rector of Trinity church in Washington, performed the double ring ceremony before a large mantel banked with palms, white gladioli, calla lilies and lighted by white candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk voile frock and a finger-ring veil which was held in place with orange blossom clusters. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses with a tucked-in corsage. Miss Mary Ann Lundmark, of Warren, who is attending Marjorie Webster Junior College in Washington, was maid of honor. She wore a light pink gown with matching headpiece and carried American Beauty roses. Arthur B. Joseph, of Washington, served as best man for Cpl. Farr.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of Tailsman roses.

Mrs. Emily Pearce, organist of Trinity church, played, in addition to the traditional wedding march, a recital which included "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me," and, softly during the ceremony, the wedding hymn "O Perfect Love."

After a short wedding trip, visiting relatives and friends in Warren, the couple returned to Washington, where the bride will remain with her parents for the present. Mrs. Farr was graduated from the local high school in 1943 and from the Marjorie Webster Junior College in Washington in 1944. Cpl. Farr, who has now reported for overseas duty, was graduated in 1941 from the local high school and attended Bryant Stratton College in Buffalo before entering the service.

Presbyterian Girl Scouts Hold Two Important Events

Girl Scout Troop 41 of First Presbyterian church held two ceremonies in the past week. The troop, sponsored by the May R. Stone Class, has grown until it was necessary to divide it into two groups both of which desired to retain the original troop number. Accordingly, the groups are designated as Troop 41-A, composed of the older girls and led by Mrs. Warren Stone and Mrs. Basil White, and 41-B under the leadership of Mrs. Don Taft and Mrs. H. K. Ansell, with Nan Schwartz, Senior Service Scout, as Program Aid.

On Wednesday, 41-A held an awarding ceremony at which one Girl Scout, Elaine Stone, was advanced to the rank of first class, the only girl in the troop to hold that rank.

Proficiency badges in child care were awarded to Ruth Bengtson, Kay DeLong, Romaine McLaughlin, Rosemary McLaughlin, Elaine Stone, and Nancy Swanson. Patricia Brown received the cook badge. Romaine and Rosemary McLaughlin and Elaine Stone each received two one-year membership stars for service in Girl Scouting.

Members of the troop who are working on the hostess badge served refreshments under the direction of Mrs. Basil White.

Troop 41-B held an investiture ceremony on Friday afternoon, at which twelve Girl Scouts were welcomed into their new status. All the girls had previously been Brownie Scouts. These girls were Geraldine Acquist, Beth Calderwood, Mary Elliott, Eileen Gibson, Joanne Gnagay, Nan Heth-ington, Elizabeth Eddy, Patty Lias, Marilyn Middaugh, Gretchen Schumaker, Dawn Taft, and Marjorie Wilson.

Besides these, ten girls were awarded attendance pins: Norma Jean Ansell, Ann Bannion, Diantha Chestnut, Joan Gibson, Gretchen Goosman, Jane Hill, Sally Irwin, Meg Lewis, Barbara Lundahl and Sally Swick.

Mothers of the new Girl Scouts were guests at the meeting. Mrs. John Swick and Mrs. Goosman, members of the troop committee, served refreshments following the ceremony.

Curry just above zero at the Scholton farm, the dog killed a pig, fat woodchuck. The dog captured the 'chuck in a pile of boards and debris which had been stacked up near the barn.

It is the first report of the killing of a woodchuck in such a temperature that anyone in this vicinity can remember and it is believed that Spring must be near if the 'chuck, reported to have been fat and in fine condition despite a long winter hibernation, was moving about to a sufficient extent to come within range of the dog.

After the Germans smashed into Poland in 1939, they took Lodz, and renamed it Litzmannstadt in honor of their war hero, Gen. Karl Litzmann.

State Police Investigating Auto Crash

State Police Officer A. A. Vavrek, of the local barracks, is in Titusville this afternoon to continue his investigation of an automobile accident which occurred at 4:20 p. m. Sunday about two miles this side of Grand Valley.

The driver of one car, Charles Bergman, of Sharon Hill in Delaware county, was taken in the Young ambulance from Youngsville to the Titusville Hospital, where it was found he had fractured his left knee, had head lacerations and a possible fracture of the skull.

Bergman, 34, was en route from Titusville to Bradford, where he is employed as an installer for the Bell Telephone Company, when his car skidded, spun about and collided with the left front end of another machine driven by Donald Agnew, of Youngsville. Total damage to the two machines is estimated by the police officer to be about $500.

Agnew, staff consulting engineer for the Goodrich Company, was accompanied by his wife and their daughter, Patricia, and was en route to Cuyahoga Falls, O., where they expected to take up residence.

Mrs. Agnew was treated by a Youngsville physician for two lacerations above her right eye and bruises of both knees.

mates in institutions for defectives which have a rated capacity of 5,107 while eight state penal institutions have a capacity of 7,681 against a "normal postwar expectancy" of 12,612.

Commissioners of Governor Martin's advisory committee on penal institutions, which Miss O'Hara included in her program provided for expansion of prison capacity from 5,098 to 7,000, abandonment of eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia and retention of western prison at Pittsburgh only temporarily.

Other proposals called for use of Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon as medium security prison, one unit of White Hill Industrial School as minimum security prison, erection in western part of state of new medium security prison and construction of new maximum security prison within wall at Waterford.

The group urged construction of two new reformatories and a new institution for defective offenders. Discontinuance of co-educational policy at Morgantown Industrial School was recommended with removal of girls to another institution. A new institution for delinquent boys and another for delinquent girls were also proposed.

The mental hospital committee asked expansion and new construction at Torrance, Somerset, Harrisburg, Hollidaysburg, Warren, Danville, Clark's Summit, Allentown, Wernersville, Norristown, Philadelphia, Mayview, Woodville, Fairview and Western State Psychiatric institutions.

Expansion at Polk and Pennsylvania state schools was asked with the early objective of making each a 4,000 bed school to eliminate waiting lists.

Supported by tanks, German infantry charged again and again but when dawn broke the Canadians were firmly astride the road.

Enemy counterattacks also boiled out of the woods 1,000 yards south of Moyland but failed to shake the Canadians who were throwing an arc around Calcar.

The Tokyo radio, reporting from a bomb-fired city where American raiding planes have knocked out 725 enemy aircraft since Friday, conceded that more than 20,000 Devil dogs already had been landed "by this morning."

From the 800 ships committed to the operation, the invaders are "bringing up reinforcements and landing them," Tokyo acknowledged. It reported 150 Yank tanks "in one sector."

All front line reports today agreed one of the most savage fights of the war is in progress.

DISCOVERED CURBSTONE

Employees of the street department this morning after several hours of digging through the accumulation of ice and snow discovered the curb stones in Times Square. Desirous of halting the encroachment of water onto the sidewalks before a heavy thaw sets in the crews dug out half a score or more of truck loads of ice. Plowing the street showed snow and ice to the curbing until the accumulation was inches above the curbs.

How smart have you been for the past 3 years?

THINK, for a minute, about what's happened to most of us at home in the last three years.

Chances are, you've had all the work you could handle at higher wages than ever before.

In spite of higher taxes and somewhat higher prices, you've netted more hard cash than ever before.

You've made more money—you've had less time to spend it—and, for a couple of years now, there's been less and less stuff to spend it on.

On top of that, you've had thrust at you at every turn the finest chance this world has ever seen to save and invest that money.

You've been asked to invest in War Bonds which, when held to maturity, pay you back $4 for every $3 you put in. Through the Payroll Plan, it's been made easy for you to buy those Bonds automatically—to save bigger amounts with greater regularity than most of us were ever able to save before.

In the last three years, in short...

You've had the chance of a lifetime to accumulate money! Money for your old age—money for emergencies—money to set you up in business—money that can help make this a healthy, prosperous country for your boy when he comes home from war!

Did you grab the chance? Have you been backing this war to the limit with your dollars—have you been buying all the War Bonds you could and hanging onto them like grim death?

If you have—fine.

If you haven't—well, it's not too late to start right now. But you ought to get in and pitch doubly hard, to make up for lost time—and money!

MARINES SEIZE AIRFIELD ON IWO JIMA

YANKS SMASH STIFFENING JAP DEFENSES

Veteran Doughboys Mow Path Across Island Extending From East to West Coast

HALT FIERCE ATTACKS

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Feb. 20—(AP)—American marines seized the southern airfield on southern Iwo Jima today after smashing through Japanese defenses as "fanatically defended as any in the Pacific," Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

Veteran marines mowed a path clear across the island extending in an irregular wedge shape from two and a half miles long on the east coast to 1,000 yards on the west.

Newly captured territory reaches from the northern slopes of Suribachi, Japanese volcano fortress on the southern tip of the island now cut off from the northern defenders, to the northern edge of the airfield.

Last night a battalion of Japanese attacked in full strength down the runway to the southern edge of the air strip, but the 27th Marine Regiment beat it back fiercely and drove off the Japanese remnants.

Sporadic artillery and mortar fire fell on American beaches on both sides of the island throughout the night but U. S. forces continued to unload more supplies, reinforcements and artillery.

American fighters broke up several Japanese air attempts to counterattack, while Pacific fleet units maintained a continuous bombardment of the highly prized airfield.

Territory captured by the veteran Fifth Marine Corps in two days of fighting represents about one quarter of the nine mile square island.

The communiqué was the second somber-toned release issued by advanced Pacific fleet headquarters tonight on the toughest battle in the American marines history.

In his first report today Nimitz said American losses in smashing across the southern end of the island were relatively light but were heavier on the northern flank of the original beachhead where the Yanks battered up unprotected slopes to envelop the airfield.

"The fight is the toughest we've run across in 18 years," Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith, commander of marine corps forces in the Pacific, told Associated Press Correspondent Morrie Landsberg aboard sea forces standing off the island.

Japanese, still holding the wide, northern end of the island, poured artillery, mortar and rifle fire down on the Yanks and put up their stiffest fight for the southern airfield.

Motomura, airfield number two lies just north of the American-held territory, won in the fiercest fighting of all on the island.

Nimitz made no mention of tanks which eye-witnesses said had been thrown into the battle. Tokyo radio reported a tank battle underway on the plateau in the center of the island occupied by the prized southern airfield.

Advance elements of the marines expanded their hold on the airfield, Nimitz said, against fierce and increasing opposition.

Heavy fighting was underway on the northern end of the field. Earlier Nimitz had said unequivocally that the leathernecks "are" (Turn to Page Seven)

Forts Blast Rail Center Of Nuernberg

By HENRY B. JAMESON
London, Feb. 20—(P)—The vast railroad yards and locomotive repair shops at Nuernberg, 90 miles north of Munich, were blasted by 900 Flying Fortresses today in the eighth straight day of the aerial offensive against the Reich.

The bombers were escorted on the long haul across the dangerous Nazi fighter belt by about 700 Mustangs and Thunderbolts, which flew in relays from British and French bases.

It was the Eighth Air Force's fourth successive strike at vital railheads in an effort to snarl German transportation headed for the front lines.

Curfew Includes All Private Organizations

Washington, Feb. 20—(P)—The Office of War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes says the new midnight curfew order applies to all private clubs and organizations with bars.

An aide, asked if the order affected fraternal clubs with bars, operated privately, replied affirmatively, referring to the paragraph in Byrnes' order which states:

"Places of entertainment are intended to include all night clubs, sport arenas, theatres, dance halls, road houses, saloons, bars and other similar enterprises, whether public or private, excluding restaurants engaged exclusively in serving food."

Walled City Of Intramuros Is Pounded

By FRED HAMPSON
Manila, Feb. 20—(P)—American heavy howitzers tore holes in the thick outer walls of Manila's Intramuros (walled city) today to clear the way for tanks and infantrymen determined to wipe out the last major Japanese stronghold in the capital and free 7,000 civilian hostages.

It was possible some of the civilians already had reached freedom by risking heavy enemy fire to slip into the waterfront area and escape in small boats.

While 11th Airborne and First Cavalry Yanks entered extensive Fort William McKinley, at the southern outskirts of the capital, 37th Division troops wheeled big howitzers over pontoon bridges spanning the Pasig and began shelling medieval Intramuros walls 40 feet thick at the base.

Three days ago Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold asked the Japanese commander in the Intramuros to liberate the civilians within in exchange for honorable surrender. No formal answer was forthcoming, so the Americans proceeded to knock the walls down.

TWO DEAD IN CAR

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Feb. 20—(P)—The rapid advance of Russian armies has made possible the liberation of many United States officers and men from Nazi prison camps deep in Germany attempts to evacuate prisoners from threatened areas.

Knocking of the Americans was disclosed by Maj. Gen. J. Russell Deane, chief of the U. S. Military Mission, in Moscow, who said he had ordered an army detachment to proceed to Lublin—where some of the liberated prisoners have assembled—to begin measures for their repatriation. Other groups of prisoners are known to be sheltered in Praga and farther west.

The total number of men freed was not estimated, but between 200 and 400 officers alone are reported among the Americans now in the care of the Poles and the Russians. Most of these gained their liberty in the confusion of the German evacuation of Stalag Offag 64 at Szubin, near Bydgoszcz.

Three officers from the camp already have reached Moscow after hitch-hiking across Poland and part of Russia.

State Hospital Is Included In Broad Expansion Program

Harrisburg, Feb. 20—(P)—Broad expansion of Pennsylvania's mental, penal and medical institutions at a cost of $186,809,751 was recommended today in a 10-year program submitted to the legislature.

Welfare Secretary S. M. O'Hara said the plan which she worked out in conjunction with special committees set up by Governor Martin would give the commonwealth "the best welfare system in the United States."

Allocation of $77,534,196 for actual construction during 1945-47—depending on availability of labor and material—is asked to meet existing needs of overcrowded institutions.

This would allow $47,156,400 for mental hospitals, $10,461,820 to institutions for defective and mentally deficient, $1,624,800 for epileptic institutions, $15,000,000 for penal and correctional places and $2,876,400 for medical and surgical hospitals.

An appropriation of $385,547 would be set up for engineering studies on future developments at a proposed cost of $27,326,106 biennially starting in 1947. Specific projects were not listed.

Reporting a 1944 inmate population of nearly 25,000 at mental institutions against a rated capacity of 27,407, Miss O'Hara declared "overcrowding defeats any program for curative treatment or rehabilitation within the hospital."

She anticipated an added patient load of 700 persons annually after 1947.

The secretary noted 6,400 in (Turn to Page Seven)

Baseball's Future Will Be Discussed

Washington, Feb. 20—(P)—National League President Ford Frick acknowledged today he has a late afternoon appointment. But that is the only hint Frick would give as to his plans for conferring with government officials on baseball problems.

Frick declined to say whether his conference will be with War Mobilization Byrnes, and Byrnes' office said it didn't know whether any baseball leaders would be there today.

There have been authoritative reports from New York that Frick plans to ask Byrnes to "either leave us enough men to play baseball or tell us to stop."

Frick was joined here this morning by Will Harridge, American League head. They went into a two-man huddle at Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators, to map out procedure.

An appointment with the Office of Defense Transportation Director, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, scheduled for noon, was postponed.

The measure also requires the induction of graduate cadet nurses before non-cadets may be drafted. Cadet graduates may be deferred only on grounds of dependency, family relationship or physical disability.

Los Angeles, Feb. 20—(P)—The trial of Joan Berry's paternity suit against Charlie Chaplin now has been set for April 4. Miss Berry, 24, alleges that Chaplin is the father of her daughter, Carol Ann, 16 months. Chaplin denies paternity. The first trial ended in a jury deadlock last month.

By the Associated Press
Paris, Feb. 20—(P)—The Canadian First Army virtually cleared the ruins of Goch, fortified Siegfried line road center, today and repelled at least five vicious counterattacks which checked gains on the northern wing of the Western front.

At the opposite flank, the American Seventh army widened its resurgent front inside the industrial Saarland and captured five towns in a move to within three and a half miles and sight of the blackened steel city of Saarbrücken. The Seventh, at least 11 divisions and 155,000 men strong, was applying increasing pressure in its limited offensive at the fringe of the packed arsenal region.

Between Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. Third Army stormed into Germany at a new point, capturing Wincheringen, a mile across the border east of Luxembourg city and five miles from the 40 Allied road hub of Saarburg. The 94th Division seized four towns along a four-mile front between Saarbrücken and Trier, Germany's oldest city and birthplace of Karl Marx.

The Roer river, like the Rhine and Meuse, was receding. When its flood waters return to banks in the 36 miles from the opened dam gates to Roermond, the American First and Ninth armies and the British Second will be able to strike toward Cologne, the Rhine-land and the Ruhr. Indeed the Germans said the Ninth had attempted a crossing at Linlich, where the Roer still was wide and angry.

When the massed might of the three Allied armies on the Roer is applied, the Germans before Cologne, Duesseldorf and Duisburg will be squeezed in a vise west of the Rhine, with the Canadian army in its northern jaw.

A thousand Nazis surrendered yesterday, boasting the toll for the northern campaign above 9,000. Scottish forces which drove into Goch from opposite directions joined in the heart of the city.

Farther east, Canadian troops cut across the Goch-Calcar road about two miles west of Calcar and beat off repeated counterattacks in (Turn to Page Seven)

The German communiqué declared Goch breached German lines in the areas of Guben, 51 miles southeast of Berlin, at Sorau, 28 miles farther southeast, and at Lauban, 61 miles east of Dresden.

Fighting of "the bitterest type" is raging in this sector between the Bober and Neisse rivers, a transoceanic broadcast said.

Transoceanic made no mention of Nazi counterattacks which the Germans last night said had won Guben, and Somerfeld, Sorau, and Sagan, on a 35-mile line to the southeast of Guben. Moscow never has claimed fall of Guben, but announced capture of the other three last week.

A Russian push farther north had carried within 47 miles of Danzig, capturing the Polish corridor town of Nowe (Nauenburg). Ten miles south of Nowe 1,500 German troops were slain as they tried to break out of encircled Grudiaz, a Moscow communiqué said.

Although dispatches from the Russian capital had said German reserves were attacking in considerable strength, Moscow remained officially silent concerning the enemy claims of successes on the approaches to Berlin.

By German account, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian army had reached and captured Guben, key road hub on the east bank of the Neisse river 51 miles southeast of the Reich capital, before the counterattacks forced him to withdraw. Moscow never had announced capture of this city.

Sixteen miles northeast of Grubben in the area of Crossen, Marshal Konev and Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov have been attempting to weld their flanks securely in preparation for an all-out blow toward Berlin. Crossen lies north of the Oder where it bends sharply eastward.

We are in receipt of interesting letter from Gale Smith, popular local young man and son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith. His V-mail letter written in France February 8th, reached destination on the 14th. It read in part: "We are well and happy and we have been very fortunate to say the least; weather here for the past few days has been much like that at spring. Like all servicemen Gale loves to get mail. . . concluding his letter with, 'I never knew mail could mean so much'." Last Tuesday his parents received a telegram from his expressing Easter greetings and that his thoughts were with them.

Boys and girls of the local school and their teacher, Mrs. Coates, are highly commended for the efforts put forth in making the recent tin can salvage drive a success; locally . . . along with Corydon citizenry who proved themselves most co-operative.

Former residents of Rochester, N. Y., they came here several years ago to make their home . . . since taking active interest in the community and its people. Mrs. George Akers, a sister of Mrs. Fair, presented the couple an attractive cake marking the occasion.

Numerous rabbits seen about the village are doing pretty well foraging for themselves but at the expense of many home owners shrubbery. Hopping over the snow they

Tonight's the Night When Old Town Really Becomes Quiet

With the brown out still keeping the village rather subdued as far as lights are concerned tonight will see the amusement places—theatres, bowling alleys, bars and night clubs closed. Last evening with latent heat which had been generated during the day and before 7 o'clock the theatres, some bowling alleys and other places operated. But the throttles on the gas were turned down at 7 last evening and the places will be closed. That is all of them except the lucky boys who are using coal for heat. "Sunny thing the ban is to conserve coal and gas but the coal heated nighties can keep open.

And the nighties are also worried now over the curfew order that followed on the heels of the gas ban. Under this order night life will cease at midnight and the folks will spend their weary way homeward to count red points due to the scarcity of sheep. And the order is further expanded by the powers that be in that the folks must leave the jerms so that the funnies can be locked up tight when the curfew hour tolls. Puffed shades won't do and if the lights are not quiet as a tomb the ghosts of the WPB will walk abroad at midnight and get you if you don't watch out.

The order on the curfew promises more headaches than do the brownout or gas ban. The gas ban will expire tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock unless the mercury dives again and creates a pull on gas supplies. The brown out will go on and on as will the curfew on the funsters and frolickers. And the liquor store will close Thursday, too. So better get a little supply laid in as there will be no place like home after midnight pretty quick.

Birthday Was Marked Friday For I. J. Hoff

February 16 marked a very happy occasion at The Hoff Business College when faculty and students surprised Mr. Hoff by reminding him of his birthday.

A beautiful gift was presented Mr. Hoff by Miss Olson on behalf of the students and teachers. The following "Salute to Mr. Hoff" was given by Miss Kay Hiber:

"As the sun rises to begin a beautiful day and goes down at eventide to bring the mysteries of the night so it has been with Mr. Hoff's life.

"To him, 44 years ago when he founded the Hoff Business College must have been like the beautiful sunrise. During those 44 years he has started many a young person on the road to success. He has always worked in the interest of educating the young people to become successful business men or business women and better citizens.

Mr. Hoff is highly respected by everyone who has come to know him.

"You know the old saying about how cranky and mean teachers are said to be. Well this is not true about Mr. Hoff because he is a true fun lover, and has given us a good many hearty laughs we shall never forget. He likes to chat with us and tell of his experiences or maybe about his trips he has taken. All in all he gives us bits of important information to better our lives.

He kept our spirits up in Calculus class.

When a problem was getting a little rough,

"Now concentrate on it," he said, And you will see they aren't really tough."

Now in Law class he tried his best to make all of us good Lawyers.

But those Law terms just didn't take effect.

In the early morning hour.

"As the sun starts slowly sinking at eventide there comes a time in each one of our lives when we must fade out of the things we love best.

"At this time, we, the Hoff Business students of the present and the past, wish to say ("Thank you Mr. Hoff.")

Mrs. Albert F. Bryan and children, Stephanie, Sue and Jimmy, have arrived in Warren and will be at their former home, 114 Conewango avenue, while Mr. Bryan is serving with the navy somewhere in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Bertha W. Lyons, West Third avenue, is spending a few days in Franklin with her brother, Harry O. Wheelock.

Mrs. Earle W. Meyers, 907 Conewango avenue, has left for Greenville, S. C., where she will spend a few weeks visiting with her husband, Captain Myers. Capt. Myers was transferred some time ago from Georgia to the new base at Greenville.

Nick and Nancy Geracimos, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Geracimos, Canton street, spent the last weekend with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Miss Bonny Johnson, sophomore student at Grove City College, spent the weekend at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson, 8 Glenwood street.

Rudolph Beiser's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" was refused by 27 New York theatrical producers before Katharine Cornell accepted the play for production.

The first coal mines in America were opened in Virginia.

Ration Bank Rulings Are Tightened Up

The District OPA today announced a sterner attitude toward overdrawals of ration point banks.

Effective February 7, institutional and industrial users of rationed food will be notified and given an opportunity to repay a first over-draft. Accounts will be automatically closed if overdrawn a second time.

Institutional users include such establishments as restaurants, hotels, and in-plant feeding operations. Industrial users include such concerns as bakeries and ice cream plants.

The tightening up of the banking operation is necessary Mr. Alvin J. Williams, District Director explained, because heretofore there has been no enforcement machinery to prevent "a growing number of over-drafts."

Ration banking operates the same as ordinary checking accounts, with users of rationed food depositing ration currency which they draw against.

The new program requires that first overdraws be repaid within 15 days of the start of the impending ration allotment period. When repayment is not forthcoming, accounts will be closed.

In cases where the user repays the later overdraws a second time, the account will be suspended at once.

Where accounts are suspended, "cash" payment in ration currency will be required.

Warrenites State Objections To Proposed Reservoir Plan

In yesterday's issue of the Post-Gazette in the column of George Zerr, river editor there appeared an article relative to objections made by two Warren residents on the proposed Allegheny reservoir or Kinzua dam. In presenting the comment of the Warren men Mr. Zerr wrote the following:

Referring to the proposed Allegheny river flood control dam at Kinzua above Warren, Franklin R. Hoff, of Warren, stated that the people of that upper river region are interested in adequate flood control, but at the same time are looking forward to seeing the Allegheny river take its rightful place as one of the most important parts in the great inland water highway system so vital to the future of the United States.

The construction of a series of dams on tributary streams, as a means of flood control is favored, whereas the so-called Kinzua dam project would not truly be a flood control measure, but rather a preventative measure to extend navigation to Salamanca and Olean.

The Kinzua project, Mr. Hoff continued, is simply a smoke screen since the Tri-State Authority is agitating for a supply of fresh water to dilute the industrial and mine pollution which is a serious problem to users of Allegheny river water in this section. Mr. Hoff believes that the present state-wide plan for eliminating and controlling river pollution should go far to solve this problem.

Asserting that the Allegheny river region is a stepchild of the Government and receives in benefits only a small proportion of the tax money it contributes, Harold C. Putnam, of Warren, opposed the construction of the Kinzua dam, as a poor substitute for the navigation dams the people on the

State Officer Checks Dogs In This Area

O. S. Sheridan, state dog law investigator, was a caller in the Times-Mirror office this morning enroute to Sugar Grove where he is investigating complaints about widespread damage being done by canines running at large in that vicinity.

Mr. Sheridan issued a warning that all dog owners must procure their 1945 licenses without delay. The 1944 licenses expired January 15th. He states that anyone harboring an unlicensed dog is liable to a fine of from five to 100 dollars or thirty days in jail, or both.

In the meantime citizens of the borough and county are advised to report all damage by dogs to livestock or poultry to Owen S. Sheridan, North East, Pa. Phone 14-R.

Numerous complaints have been received at this office from citizens in both the borough and county and especially the Sugar Grove area, about depredations caused by packs of dogs that are running at large. With the approach of spring there is much apprehension about the damage that will be caused to lawns and shrubbery by roving mongrels.

More News of WHS Alumni Killed on the Western Front

Additional news has been received here concerning S/Sgt. Raymond B. Wolfe, of Wewoka, Okla., formerly of Warren, whose death on the Belgian front was reported in these columns a few days ago. The following concerning him is taken from a Wewoka daily:

Staff Sergeant Raymond B. Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wolf, 1208 South Ochse Ave., seriously wounded in action in Belgium on January 7 and died January 9, according to word received by his parents from the War Department on Monday, February 5.

At the time he was killed, Sergeant Wolfe was a paratrooper in the 82nd Airborne division and had been in consistent action since D-Day in Normandy. He was wounded in Holland and was hospitalized in England about a month prior to the time he was fatally wounded. At his own request he was discharged from the hospital so that he might rejoin his company in France. He was one of the participants in the hard-fought struggle for the Nijmegen bridge in western Holland where Allied losses were extremely heavy.

His first actual combat was when he made his initial jump on D-Day on the Normandy beachhead, after which he fought his way back to his own lines without relief for 31 days.

For gallantry in action, he was awarded the Bronze Star, the Presidential Unit Citation, and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

Originally a volunteer in the infantry branch of the service, he received his training at Camp Wolters, near Mineral Wells, Tex., and was later an instructor there. After ten months service at Camp Wolters, Sergeant Wolfe asked to be transferred to the paratroops, receiving the coveted Boots and Wings of this branch of the service at Fort Benning, Ga., going to Camp Mackall, N. C. He left the United States for foreign service on December 27, 1943, remaining in North Ireland and England until D-Day.

Sergeant Wolfe was reared in Warren, Penna., and was graduated from Warren High School. He was a member of the First Evangelical church of that city, attended the University of Oklahoma, Norman, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Besides his parents, two sisters, Evelyn and Helen Wolfe, survive him, also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Mealy, all of Wewoka, and an aunt and uncle, Mrs. E. E. Wagner and W. W. Wolf, of Tulsa; two aunts and an uncle, Mrs. Orion Allia, Tionesta; Mrs. Charles Gable, Shippensburg; Lawrence Wolf, Wolf's Corners.

In addition to the awards mentioned, he was the recipient of the good Conduct Medal becoming a good soldier, and in civilian life a fine and worthy lad.

Sgt. McKown Is Recipient Of Air Medal

From an 8th Air Force Liberator station somewhere in England it is learned that Sgt. George E. McKown, of Tidoute, has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in aerial combat.

As nose gunner on a B-24 Liberator "Arrowhead", he has made six bombing missions over Germany and enemy-occupied territory. Announcement of the award has been made by the commanding officer of the 453rd bomber group, a unit of Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner's second bombardment division.

Sgt. McKown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McKown, 81 Main street, Tidoute. After attending Hunter Memorial High School at Tidoute, he was employed by the Carborundum Company in Niagara Falls. He entered the army in December, 1943, and since October, 1944, has been serving at the base where he is currently located.

Bronze Star Is Awarded to Sgt. Palmer

Mrs. Lloyd Palmer, of Pleasant township, has received word from Major General Macdon that her husband, Sgt. Palmer, of the medical department, 331st Infantry, United States Army, has been awarded the Bronze Star.

The decoration was presented him on January 4, 1945, for "distinguishing himself by heroic achievement in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States."

Sgt. Palmer, who entered military service from Virginia, has also been awarded the Purple Heart decoration for wounds received in Luxembourg.

Mrs. Luella Thayer, of Sugar Grove, has received word that her husband, Joseph "E" Thayer, ship's cook third class, formerly at Little Creek, Va., is now stationed at an amphibious training base at Fort Pierce, Fla.

WHAT PEACE FOR JAPAN?

An Australian clergyman in this country has urged a "just peace" which would not crush Japan's economic development or reduce her to a third-class power. He argues that, while those who have suffered at the Japs' hands may favor harsh terms, our children in another 25 years will be unwilling to continue such an attitude. He fears a sullen, vengeful Japan and a repetition of "this whole bloody business."

Yet we always bequeath to our children prisons that contain criminal types who are a menace to public safety. Our children may have forgotten their crimes. But they will know that they are sullen and resentful types who would resume a criminal life if released. So they do not hesitate to confine them for the duration of their sentences.

Confining a criminal nation is not so simple as putting a murderer in jail. But the principal is the same. So for safety, not for vengeance, we should preserve for our children the full record of the Japs' and Germans' brutal crimes against world society. And we should remind them, by all possible means, of the dangers which abandonment of watchfulness and control would invite.

SAVING FATS

Recent pleas for the salvage of waste fats have mentioned their use in soap, rather than ammunition. And many a modern woman, handing to her butcher the can for which she receives red points, has wondered why. Now the War Foods Administration has explained.

There is plenty of soap for normal use, they say, even for the washingest country in history. But soap making requires fat, as our grandmothers well know. And stocks of soap-fats, which in recent years meant coconut oil and similar vegetable products, are not so great as before the war. Recently the WFB was forced to reduce manufacture of packaged and bar soap—ordinary toilet and laundry soaps—in units of less than 25 pounds for civilian use, from last year's 90 per cent of 1941 averages to 85 per cent.

With so much of our population no longer classed as civilians there will be plenty for everyone. The things the housewife must remember are, first to buy only what she really can use; second to turn in waste fats. Then enough can still be manufactured to keep everyone clean and healthy.

Field Marshal Montgomery's spirited order-of-the-day to his troops, who are doing such a grand job in turning the German northern flank in the Goch sector of the flooded Rhineland, is a clear call to an offensive—the "knockout blow".

A state dog law investigator arrived in the county today to investigate complaints received, especially from the Sugar Grove area. He emphasizes the fact that all dogs must be licensed and under the law owners are required to restrict them to their own property.

Instead of the Russians eventually being handed the key to Berlin, wouldn't a shovel be more appropriate?

OVERCOMING THE WORLD

It was near the close of His earthly ministry that Jesus said to His disciples, "Be of good cheer! I have overcome the world." This is an important statement, for if Christ, the Son of God, had not been able to overcome the world, there would be little hope for us. The Scripture enjoins us to "love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

In studying the life of Christ, it is plain to be seen that He was attacked on these three points, but that he was victor also is very evident. Yes, the captain of our salvation has conquered all and has made it possible that we might be saved through Him.

The Master said to Nicodemus, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." So by faith in Him we may also overcome the world and reach a place in Him where the world has lost its grip and attraction. "For whosoever is born of God overcometh the world; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Who is he that overcometh the world but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?"

Let us increase our faith in Him.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1925

The Warren chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America will hold its annual banquet at the YMCA. Feature attraction of the evening's entertainment will be the showing of "Fishing Days on the Nipigon."

Possibilities of Warren being represented during the coming season depends entirely on the support of the fans. In order to provide a team, sufficient funds must be provided.

Two applications for building alterations were issued at the office of the City Clerk Joseph Goldstein, Ray W. Norris, who recently purchased the Chaffee Tire Shop, and Dr. R. L. Young applied for permits.

Byron Olney, the Warren representative of the National Cash Register company, has had his offices in Erie for the past three weeks, being in charge of that office while the regular manager is vacationing.

In 1935
Another duty, that of performing the solemn ceremony of marriage, has been added to the many and diversified tasks which Warren's Chief Burgess, Raymond W. Steber, has been called upon to do.

Twenty-eight members of the Warren County Medical Society were present at the February meeting held at the Conewago Club to hear Dr. A. F. Yerg summarize present knowledge concerning migraine.

In conjunction with the industrial exhibits at the Warren National Bank, the Baislow Studio is showing a number of pictures in their display cases concerning the exhibiting company's products.

Grand Knight H. P. Bearer of the local K. of C. has announced the appointment of the following executive committee to represent the Warren Council in the International Mobilization for Catholic Action: Raymond Morrison, Francis Hernen, Paul Gray, F. J. Masterson, and J. A. Scaife.

SYLVANIA ANNOUNCES NEW PATENTS

Fifteen additional U. S. patents were issued to scientists and research men and assigned to Sylvania Electric Products Inc. during the year. The company was also granted one design patent and six U. S. trade marks. One patent is pending. Eight trade marks were registered in foreign countries and two foreign patents received.

A snapping turtle has not teeth, but its jaws are equipped with horny, knifelike edges. From black coal tar are obtained over 8,000 kinds of dyes, many of bright color.

Cadet Nurse Scholarships Are Available

Although many young women in Pennsylvania have been accepted in new classes opening soon in schools of nursing under the Cadet Nurse Corps Program, a few scholarships still remain to be awarded in February and March classes, it was announced today by the U. S. Public Health Service, which administers the program.

Officials stressed that in order to qualify, applicants must be graduated from high school with satisfactory grades and subjects; meet the specific requirements of the school to which they apply; and be in good health.

Scholarships provide room, board, tuition, fees, books and uniforms. In addition, each student receives a small monthly spending allowance.

Members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps are credited with preventing the collapse of civilian nursing by serving as they learn. They not only relieve the nursing load in civilian hospitals, but also help release registered nurses for military service. When the 24 to 36 month training is completed and the student has passed her State Board examination and becomes a Registered Nurse, she is eligible to serve with the military or to take an essential position in a civilian hospital.

Schools of Nursing in Pennsylvania which still have scholarships available are: Canonsburg, Canonsburg Hospital, 10 vacancies for class opening March 15; Coatesville, Coatesville Hospital, 4 vacancies for Feb. 26 class; Homestead, Homestead Hospital, 12 vacancies for March 15; McKeesport, McKeesport Hospital, 5 vacancies in March class; New Castle, New Castle Hospital, 20 vacancies for Feb. 28 class; Meadville, Meadville City Hospital, 16 vacancies for May 1; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Hospital, 10 vacancies for Feb. 26 class; Pittsburgh, St. Francis Hospital, 10 vacancies for March 5 class; South Side Hospital, 5 vacancies for March 1 class; Suburban General Hospital, 4 vacancies for March 12 class; Wilkensburg, Columbia General Hospital, 12 vacancies for March 1 class.

Applications should be made immediately to the Recruitment Officer, Pennsylvania Nursing Council for War Service, 400 North Third street, Harrisburg, Penna. This office will supply full information about these, as well as June and September classes. Application may also be made to the Director, School of Nursing, of the individual hospital.

A faint glow on the eastern horizon heralded the coming dawn when he loped up to the Turkey ranch house. Sliding wearily out of leather, he mounted the steps and hammered at the door.

Viola, a colorful dressing gown wrapped around her slim figure, finally threw it open. Blinking the sleep out of her eyes, she gazed at the dust smothered, haggard-eyed O'Shane in amazement.

"Well, if it's not our bush-whacker!" she gasped. The redhead's fatigue lined features cracked in the parody of a grin. "As pretty as a painted wagon! Where's the Colonel, mam?" he exclaimed.

"In town, and I'm no wagon. You look half-dead. Are they chasing you again?"

To the wide-eyed Viola he rapidly outlined the events of the night.

"Step inside and sit down. I'll fetch Olson, our foreman."

In a few minutes she returned with a lean rider, with broad placid face and shrewd eyes.

O'Shane repeated his story. "I'll gamble there's a slug of Turkey cows in that gather," he concluded. "Them cove hawks combed the Valley. They're hazing five or six hundred head. Roust out your crew and we got a chance to stop 'em. When I left, the critters was hightailing for hell."

Olson eyed the redhead doubtfully. Dirty, unshaven, dust covered, his appearance did not inspire confidence.

"How come you're so danged interested?" he asked. "I figured you was on the lam?"

Phillips, 10 Franklin street while going through some old papers the other day ran across an interesting bit of advertising put out by the late J. O. Messerly. He headed it "1885-Recollections of a Business Man—1925" and it is interesting to read the following recollections of Mr. Messerly:

40 years ago there were only eight houses in the seventh ward. Over one-half was in woods.

40 years ago the first city directory was published by the Warren Ledger, the population was 4000.

40 years ago the first M. E. Church was built. The Struthers Library Building was opened to the public.

40 years ago The Fair Grounds occupied the space from Main Ave. West to the P. R. R.

40 years ago Warren had no electric lights, no street cars, no paved streets, and only four small school buildings.

40 years ago the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Wards were not included in the City limits.

40 years ago a shop 16x30 feet was large enough to work in, and display all my finished stock. Our work was all done by hand; today most of it is done by machinery.

40 years ago very little granite was finished in the U. S. Previous to that all finished granite came from Scotland.

40 years ago cement was not in use. Crushed stone was used for monument foundations, this was followed by stone laid in mortar, later by concrete.

ever-quickening gallop. With Olson pressing close behind, O'Shane, firing into the air and yelling, pushed against the wild-eyed leaders. Slowly his efforts and those of the crew racing behind bore fruit. As he felt the leaders ease away amid a pandemonium of clashing horns, flying dust and thundering hooves, the red-head's sweat-streaked features relaxed into a satisfied smile. His ace in the hole had scooped the pot!

The party rode back to the scene of the attack. Dust clouds, ballooning against the blue sky, marked the trail of the retreating Double O gang.

On the trampled track which cut a wide swathe across the desert and marked the path of the herd, they found the bodies of three strange riders. Beside one, a horse still stood.

Olson eyed the brand, "Double O" he commented in perplexity. "Why in hell should they rustle their own cows?"

"Mebbe they're double-crossing the spread," suggested a rider. "Eleson's crew would double-cross their own mothers," said O'Shane.

IT WAS undown when the herd again entered Piute Valley. As they rode through the gathering darkness, O'Shane wheeled away from the foreman's side.

"Hey, where you heading for?" demanded Olson.

"I reckon you forget, I'm on the dodge," he reminded the foreman tersely. "After this," he nodded towards the plodding column of weary cows, "Wacker will raise hell to slip a hobble on me."

"The whole setup's got me buffaloed," acknowledged Olson, with a puzzled frown. "Anyways," he held out his sinewy hand, "Shake! You got gravel in your gizzard. Plenty. Good luck, O'Shane!"

The redhead reined over and gripped the proffered hand. "Adios!" he grinned. "You ginks ain't heard the last of me yet."

To be continued

YESTERDAY: O'Shane comes upon Wacker's men running off a large herd of Double O and Turkey cattle. Falling in with the herd, he learns where the cattle are being taken, sets fire to the sage brush and stampedes the herd, then rides off toward the Turkey spread for help.

Chapter 14
A faint glow on the eastern horizon heralded the coming dawn when he loped up to the Turkey ranch house. Sliding wearily out of leather, he mounted the steps and hammered at the door.

Viola, a colorful dressing gown wrapped around her slim figure, finally threw it open. Blinking the sleep out of her eyes, she gazed at the dust smothered, haggard-eyed O'Shane in amazement.

"Well, if it's not our bush-whacker!" she gasped. The redhead's fatigue lined features cracked in the parody of a grin. "As pretty as a painted wagon! Where's the Colonel, mam?" he exclaimed.

"In town, and I'm no wagon. You look half-dead. Are they chasing you again?"

To the wide-eyed Viola he rapidly outlined the events of the night.

"Step inside and sit down. I'll fetch Olson, our foreman."

In a few minutes she returned with a lean rider, with broad placid face and shrewd eyes.

O'Shane repeated his story. "I'll gamble there's a slug of Turkey cows in that gather," he concluded. "Them cove hawks combed the Valley. They're hazing five or six hundred head. Roust out your crew and we got a chance to stop 'em. When I left, the critters was hightailing for hell."

Olson eyed the redhead doubtfully. Dirty, unshaven, dust covered, his appearance did not inspire confidence.

"How come you're so danged interested?" he asked. "I figured you was on the lam?"

"That murder charge is a frame-

up," replied O'Shane shortly. "Wacker's back of them hooters. I burned down his lousy joint and I'll bust him before I'm through."

"Oh, don't waste time arguing, Oly!" burst in Viola.

"You turn the boys out right away. This is our chance to strike back."

SUNRISE saw ten riders, with Winchester in their saddle boots, loping down Piute Valley towards the desert.

O'Shane sighted the low-lying dust cloud slowly drifting upwards on the horizon, as they reeled along.

"There's your cows!" he remarked laconically.

The foreman grunted, ducked the outspread thorny branch of a buckthorn and urged his pony to greater speed.

Spurring and yelling, riders appeared and disappeared, as they darted in and out of the dust haze on the flanks of the herd, frantically urging the cows to greater speed.

From the drag, two horsemen wheeled and backtracked towards the oncoming Turkey riders. The distance between the two parties narrowed every second. When less than a half mile distant, the pair went to earth. Above the faint clacking of horns and bellowing of the cows, came the sharp crack of a Winchester. The hidden marksmen commenced to throw a steady stream of bullets at the madly galloping cavalcade.

I LEAD was flying thick and fast. One horse crashed, flinging its rider into a patch of cholla. His yell of pain and indignation, as the venomous little fishhook horns penetrated his person, brought a chuckle to O'Shane's lips, as he pounded on.

Approaching the herd, the two parties came together again. Yelling with excitement, six guns ready for action they swept alongside the lumbering animals.

Stringing out, the Turkey crew strove to turn the herd, now stampeding, tails humped, at a

In loving memory of our dear father "Tony" Graziano who passed away one year ago today February 20, 1944.

A moon and stars are shining on a lonely grave where lies our darling son and brother, who loved but couldn't save. He often sat and think of him, and think he couldn't say good bye for he closed his eyes. For all of us he did his best, and God grant him eternal rest. Sadly missed and never to be gotten.

Of interest here is the news of the marriage of Miss Nancy Jane Christie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Christie, formerly of Warren, now of Washington, D. C., to Cpl. Ralph D. Farr, son of Mrs. Anna Farr, of Warren, on February 7 in the home of the bride's parents. About 25 friends and relatives were present. Rev. Reno S. Harp, Jr., rector of Trinity church in Washington, performed the double ring ceremony before a large mantel banked with palms, white gladioli, calla lilies and lighted by white candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk voile frock and a finger-ring veil which was held in place with orange blossom clusters. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses with a tucked-in corsage. Miss Mary Ann Lundmark, of Warren, who is attending Marjorie Webster Junior College in Washington, was maid of honor. She wore a light pink gown with matching headpiece and carried American Beauty roses. Arthur B. Joseph, of Washington, served as best man for Cpl. Farr.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Emily Pearce, organist of Trinity church, played, in addition to the traditional wedding marches, a recital which included "Be-cause," "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me," and, softly, during the ceremony, the wedding hymn "O Perfect Love."

After a short wedding trip, visiting relatives and friends in Warren, the couple returned to Washington, where the bride will remain with her parents for the present. Mrs. Farr was graduated from the local high school in 1943 and from the Marjorie Webster Junior College in Washington in 1944. Cpl. Farr, who has now returned for overseas duty, was graduated in 1941 from the local high school and attended Bryant-Stratton College in Buffalo before entering the service.

Presbyterian Girl Scouts Hold Two Important Events

Girl Scout Troop 41 of First Presbyterian church held two ceremonies in the past week. The troop, sponsored by the May R. Stone Class, has grown until it was necessary to divide it into two groups both of which desired to retain the original troop number. Accordingly, the groups are designated as Troop 41-A, composed of the older girls and led by Mrs. Warren Stone and Mrs. Basil White, and 41-B under the leadership of Mrs. Don Taft and Mrs. H. K. Ansell, with Nan Schwartz, Senior Service Scout, as P. program Aid.

On Wednesday, 41-A held an awarding ceremony at which one Girl Scout, Elaine Stone, was advanced to the rank of first class, the only girl in the troop to hold that rank.

Proficiency badges in child care were awarded to Ruth Bengtson, Kay DeLong, Romaine McLaughlin, Rosemary McLaughlin, Elaine Stone, and Nancy Swanson. Patricia Brown received the cook badge, Romaine and Rosemary McLaughlin and Elaine Stone each received two one-year membership stars for service in Girl Scout.

Members of the troop who are working on the hostess badge served refreshments under the direction of Mrs. Basil White.

Troop 41-B held an investiture ceremony on Friday afternoon, at which twelve Girl Scouts were welcomed into their new status. All the girls had previously been Brownie Scouts. These girls were Geraldine Acquist, Beth Calderwood, Mary Elliott, Eileen Gibson, Joanne Gnagey, Nan Heth-

Sylvania Wallops Blomquist Outfit at Y; Struthers Cop Decision Over Baker Quintet

In the City League last night at the YM, Sylvania swamped the Blomquist outfit, 69-31, in the first game and in the second encounter, Struthers marched off with a 45-34 decision over Bakers.

The first tilt was a hit-and-miss affair, with Billy Massa leading the Sylvanians with a 25 point game total. The Bloms were outscored in every period, the Green and White going off to a first quarter margin, 15-6. At halftime the Sylvania quintet held a 29-18 lead, as they continued their scoring spree. In the third quarter, Bloms dropped further behind, scoring but 9 markers to the leaders' 15. The fourth quarter clinched the game for the Sylvanians as they dumped in 10 field goals and two foul points to outscore the Blomquist aggregation, 22-4, and come out the winner by a 35 point margin. Last night's win puts the Sylvanians in first place along with Struthers and the Forge, whom the Green and White meets on Thursday.

Manager Rabbit Swanson's Well-mens had little trouble in downing the Baker crew, Junior Akeley dumping in 12 points to pace the winners. Bakers got off to a bad start in the first period being outscored 12 to 5, but they came back in the second stanza to trail at halftime, 24-13. Struthers was held on an equal basis with the Baker crew in the third and fourth quarters, both teams annexing 8 points in the third, and 13 in the fourth, Struthers' first half margin deciding the contest.

On Thursday night at 7:30, Struthers takes on the last place Blomquist outfit and at 8:30, Forge meets Sylvania to determine which club will remain in first place.

Raiders Hold First Place In Y Volleyball

Lewis' Raiders in the Business Men's Volleyball League at the YVCA have taken a firm hold on the first place spot in the league at the end of the second week of play with 9 wins and 3 losses. The Raiders 2 to 1 wins over Morlock's Marauders on Wednesday night and their 3 to 0 wins over Johnson's Avengers on Friday night stamps them as a tough team to beat.

Johnson's Avengers hold the middle spot in the league standing with 5 wins and 7 losses and Morlock's Marauders are holding down the cellar position with 4 wins and 8 losses.

With the games next week scheduled as the final round in the first half, the Avengers and the Marauders are set to make a determined bid for first place honors for the first half. The Raiders must take all six of their games to cop first place and the Avengers must take five games to snare top honors. The Raiders can clinch first place by taking two out of their six games for next week.

The second half games of the volleyball league will get under way on Monday February 26 and will run until the Easter season. The winners for the first half will play for the winners of the second half for the league championship.

Willie Pep was too much for Phil Terranova last night at Madison Square Garden, and as a result, the Hartford had retained his featherweight title by decisively outpointing the New York challenger over the 15-round route. In hanging up his 86th triumph in 87 starts and his 24th in a row since losing to Sammy Angott two years ago, Pep demonstrated that he was too good for the game, but outclassed Terranova.

Slammin' Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Virginia, conqueror of Byron Nelson in a 19-hole playoff for the Gulfport open golf championship, was enroute to Pensacola, Florida, today to continue feuding with the Toledo stylist in the Pensacola Open which starts Thursday. Sneed's one-stroke victory in the Gulfport affair—after the count was knotted at the end of the regulation 72 holes and again at the end of an 18-hole playoff—gave him a tie with Neilson in the P. G. A. sponsored winter tournament series. Each has won four championships although Sammy has played in two less tournaments.

William J. Bingham has called a meeting of the National Collegiate Football rules committee for New York City on March 31. Bingham, Harvard's athletic director on military leave, was named chairman of the code committee a year ago last January but refused to convene his group, declaring that there was no need for such action and that the grid law would remain frozen for the duration. He suggested that post-war football be devoted to experimenting, because during 1944 almost every college team tampered with the rules to some extent. Recommendations for rule changes are (1) prohibiting out-of-bounds kicking, with a five-yard penalty for each wild boot; (2) permitting use of a one-inch tee at the kickoff; (3) requiring blockers to keep elbows and hands close to their own bodies; (4) permitting passes from any point behind the line of scrimmage; (5) and (6) penalizing for illegal forward passes.

Bob Hammerbeck, veteran guard on the 1944-45 basketball squad, Fred Beyer and Bill Meno, both members of last year's championship team, are slated for induction into the armed services on February 27. All have passed their pre-induction physical. Hammerbeck will play his final game of the season against Franklin on the Beatty court Friday night. He has had three years of varsity squad action.

Outstanding League Crowns At Stake in Tonight's Games

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, Feb. 20.—(A)—Several outstanding Pennsylvania scholastic basketball teams have an opportunity to clinch league titles tonight as the final week of regular competition gets under way.

Pottstown basketweavers favored to displace Lower Merion in District One, can gain at least a tie for the first place spot in the league at the end of the second week of play with 9 wins and 3 losses. The Raiders 2 to 1 wins over Morlock's Marauders on Wednesday night and their 3 to 0 wins over Johnson's Avengers on Friday night stamps them as a tough team to beat.

State Police Investigating Auto Crash

State Police Officer A. A. Vavrek, of the local barracks, is in Titusville this afternoon to continue his investigation of an automobile accident which occurred at 4:20 p. m. Sunday about two miles this side of Grand Valley.

The driver of one car, Charles Bergman, of Sharon Hill in Delaware county, was taken in the Young ambulance from Youngsville to the Titusville Hospital, where it was found he had fractured his left knee, had head lacerations and a possible fracture of the skull.

Bergman, 34, was en route from Titusville to Bradford, where he is employed as an installer for the Bell Telephone Company, when his car skidded, spun about and collided with the left front end of another machine driven by Donald Agnew, of Youngsville. Total damage to the two machines is estimated by the police officer to be about $800.

Agnew, staff consulting engineer for the Goodrich Company, was accompanied by his wife and their daughter, Patricia, and was en route to Guyahoga Falls, O., where they expected to take up residence.

Mrs. Agnew was treated by a Youngsville physician for two lacerations above her right eye and bruises of both knees.

State Hospital Is Included in Broad Expansion Program

mates in institutions for defectives which have a rated capacity of 5,107 and eight state penal institutions have a capacity of 7,681 against a "normal postwar expectancy" of 12,612.

Recommendations of Governor Martin's advisory committee on penal institutions which Miss O'Hara included in her program provided for expansion of prison capacity from 5,096 to 7,000, abandonment of eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia and retention of western prison at Pittsburgh only temporarily.

Other proposals called for use of Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon as medium security prison, one unit of White Hill Industrial School as minimum security prison, erection in western part of state of new medium security prison and construction of new maximum security prison within wall at Waterford.

The group urged construction of two new reformatories and a new institution for defective offenders. Discontinuance of co-educational policy at Morgantown Industrial School was recommended with removal of girls to another institution.

A new institution for delinquent boys and another for delinquent girls were other proposals. The mental hospital committee asked expansion and new construction at Torrance, Somerset, Harrisburg, Hollidaysburg, Warren, Danville, Clark's Summit, Allentown, Wernersville, Norristown, Philadelphia, Mayview, Woodville, Fairview and Western State Psychiatric institutions.

Expansion at Polk and Pennsylvania state schools was asked with the early objective of making each a 4,000 bed school to eliminate waiting lists.

Goch Ruins Are Cleared by Canadians

all night fighting. Some troops were within a mile of Calcar (Pop. 2,063), and wading in icy flood waters of the Rhine, spread two miles over flatlands to the very edge of the road town.

Supported by tanks, German infantry charged again and again but when dawn broke, the Canadians were firmly astride the road.

Enemy counterattacks also boiled out of the woods 1,000 yards south of Moyland but failed to shake the Canadians who were throwing an arc around Calcar.

Benson Is Ready to Assist Veterans in Securing Rights

Joseph D. Benson, named as Director of Veterans Affairs, for this county some time ago is now having some busy days as the various matters pertaining to Veterans and their families arise. Until March 1st, Mr. Benson will have his office at 311 Market street and after that date he will be located in Room 304 Warren Bank and Trust building. The office was created by an Act of the Legislature to assist Veterans and their families in securing pensions, allowances, etc., to which they may be entitled under the various Acts of Congress.

Mr. Benson said today "It is our duty and privilege to assist and help any and all service people that are entitled to the benefits under the laws existing of which may be created."

Persons who desire aid are asked to call at Mr. Benson's office for any information and guidance on their particular case which will be gladly furnished.

Two pieces of information are passed on by Mr. Benson today for the aid of persons coming in that category as follows:

In order to avoid unnecessary delays in the transmission of casualty notifications, the War Department has urged all emergency addresses of soldiers serving overseas to keep the Adjutant General informed at all times of any address changes.

Large numbers of casualty telegrams are being returned undelivered to the Adjutant General's Office because addresses of friends or next of kin to be notified in emergency are incomplete or incorrect.

Practically every case of non-delivery has been directly attributable to outdated addresses resulting from failure of the emergency addressee to notify the Adjutant General of any change of address. More than 4,000 such casualty telegrams are delayed every month.

Emergency addresses who have moved following the departure of the soldier for an overseas destination should write to the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington 25, D. C. Attention: Casualty Branch, giving both the old and new address.

Also included should be the soldier's full name, rank, serial number and his organization and APO number.

The second is: Members of the armed forces who have lost their lives in the military service, and who were government employees at the time they entered the service, may have benefits coming of which their beneficiaries of such deceased servicemen communicate with the Civil Service Commission, Retirement Division, Washington 25, D. C., to learn whether there are benefits in the Civil Service Retirement Fund to which they may be entitled, in the event they have not already heard from the Retirement Division.

Details of Middle East Trip Given

Aboard a United States man-of-war in Great Bitter Lake in the Suez canal, Mr. Roosevelt received three storied rulers of eastern countries—King Farouk of Egypt, Emperor Haile Selassie I of Ethiopia and King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

The Roosevelt-Churchill conference at Alexandria lasted less than four hours. The official statement said this meeting "permitted new and important discussions of at least one subject which they could not take up before. That had to do with Japan and the war in the Pacific where Soviet Russia is a neutral power."

Churchill, the account continued, told Mr. Roosevelt "in blunt words that his government was determined to throw everything it had at the Japs as soon as Germany has been defeated and, meanwhile, would do all it could to strengthen its forces already engaged in that conflict."

Russia's future role in the Pacific has been a subject of speculation since the United Nations conference was set for San Francisco on April 25. That date is the last for Moscow to give Japan official notice if Russia wishes to denounce her non-aggression pact with Tokyo. Otherwise, the treaty renews itself for five years.

Algiers was described as the president's last stopping place abroad before leaving for Washington.

The conference with Churchill at Alexandria, while lasting less than four hours, was described as permitting "new and important discussions of at least one subject they could not take up before."

Newsmen were cautioned not to speculate on the whereabouts of the president at this time. It was stated, however, that when the president reaches the White House he will have traveled about 14,000 miles, more than half way around the world.

At no time during his journey, the statement said, was he beyond almost instantaneous reach of the White House or Washington officials.

power, fuel and materials. The OPA could halt rations and fuel oil.

Noah L. Braunstein, spokesman for the New York Cafe Owners Guild, said the request would result in "a lot of unemployment" and added: "It will be a definite invitation for the return of the horrors of the speakeasy days."

Michael Hannigan, president of the Illinois Tavern Owners Association, said the early closing might mean the difference between profit and loss for amusement places. He suggested that license fees should be reduced because of the earlier closing hours.

But a preponderance of the reaction was favorable, following the line of James Nore of Seattle. Secretary and board chairman of the Independent Theatre Owners of Washington, Northern Idaho and Alaska, who said:

How smart have you been for the past 3 years?

THINK, for a minute, about what's happened to most of us at home in the last three years.

Chances are, you've had all the work you could handle at higher wages than ever before.

In spite of higher taxes and somewhat higher prices, you've netted more hard cash than ever before.

You've made more money—you've had less time to spend it—and, for a couple of years now, there's been less and less stuff to spend it on.

On top of that, you've had thrust at you at every turn the finest chance this world has ever seen to save and invest that money.

You've been asked to invest in War Bonds which, when held to maturity, pay you back $4 for every $3 you put in. Through the Payroll Plan, it's been made easy for you to buy those Bonds automatically—to save bigger amounts with greater regularity than most of us were ever able to save before.

In the last three years, in short...

You've had the chance of a lifetime to accumulate money! Money for your old age—money for emergencies—money to set you up in business—money that can help make this a healthy, prosperous country for your boy when he comes home from war!

Did you grab the chance? Have you been backing this war to the limit with your dollars—have you been buying all the War Bonds you could and hanging onto them like grim death?

If you have—fine.

If you haven't—well, it's not too late to start right now. But you ought to get in and pitch doubly hard, to make up for lost time—and money!
